STATEHOOD FOR ARIZONA.

THAT FRAUD.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing from Havana, shows that there was in 1892 an increase of its associations, but also because it is a Cuba's imports form the United States of $9,586,862. He says that the reduction of the duty on flour, brought about by the reciprocity treaty, "gave the American millers complete control of the Cuban market, the price of flour having been reduced $4 and $5 per barrel in that market in consequence. And while this is true it is also true that meats, lard and many other classes of provisions which were formerly brought from other countries are now imported from the United States.

And yet the Democratic platform pronounces reciprocity a fraud, and the and appreciative audience to hear some people have placed that party in power of the old time singing teachers. These that is pledged to give our markets to the foreigner instead of making him

We have secured the Cuban market for our flour, meats and other farm products because, and only because we had a protective system that enabled and Mr. Myers, of Broad Fording, who us to compel Spain to agree to our terms. Had we hed free trade, or a revenue tariff we could not have secured gone over. The large congregation, this advantage, either with Cuba or which had been constituted the singing revenue tariff we could not have secured with any other countries that are now class, united in the song service with taking large quantities of our products,

It remains to be seen whether the "that fraud" with a destroying hand.

WALL STREET doesn't want an extra session, so there'll be none.

THERE WILL be no war in eward county, Kansas. The Liberal people obtain the county seat, and those of Springfield are liberal enough to let them take it.

IT ISN'T THE small amount of "biler plate" which THE REPUBLICAN prints that hurts the Herald as much as the forty columns of live advertising, or the further fact that THE REPUBLICAN receives $35 per month for the same space which is filled in the Herald at $5 and paid for "in Trade."

GEORGE J. GOULD has had greatness thrust upon him by his father's will as well as considerable cash and valuable securities. A Wise Choice.

The World's fair at Chicago should be made the center of as many features of local and traditional interest, tending to aronse genuine American feeling, as possible. If by means of the exhibition we can make any strong historical asso ciation of a state or even of a neighbor hood the common property of all the people, the fair will be of more than material advantage.

Each state-in the building which it is to construct at Chicago for its "clul house" or headquarters-aims at something representative in some way of its special conditions of life or its history. the selection of New Jersey.

Few houses associated with the memory of George Washington, with the exception of Mount Vernon itself, are better known or are the objects of a deeper sentiment than the beautiful old mansion still standing at Morristown, New Jersey.

This house is noteworthy not only for pure and noble example of colonial architecture.

With a slight and harmonious addition this old house is to be reproduced by New Jersey on the World's fair ground. at Chicago. There it will speak eloquently of the father of his country, and together with such buildings as the Massachusetts building, which is modeled after the Hancock house in Boston, it will speak also of the large, serene and hospitable life of the people before the Revolution .- Youth's Companion.

Singing the Old Songs Once More. Each of the gentlemen took the floor.

All of the dear old church hymns were spirit. Professor Baughey is now well advanced in years, but he still has a sweet, melodious voice and the presence Democratic party will dare to touch and manner on the floor which have never deserted him. There were many persons present from Maryland and Pennsylvania. It was a notable occasion and one that revived pleasant and delightful recollections of ye older time. -Chambersburg (Pa.) Public Opinion.

Recent Styles in Matchboxes.

Every young man, as well as old, is interested in the matchbox, if not from a smoker's point of view, at least from a feeling that it is something always serviceable. The best adapted and most fashionable designs at this time are those illustrating bunting scenes. The fishing rod and kinship have been put by, the gun, the setter and the wild goose supplanting them. Apart from nickel the material usually used for matchboxes has been silver, but a formidable rival has appeared in finely figured dark steel, the body being of that metal, the hinges, snap and cover of silver or gold. In the more expensive kind there is a horseshoe or bed of rubies, with an effect altogether gorgeous. The shapes vary from the shell pattern to a plain satin finish. The absence of elaborate decoration is amply atoned for by the great durability of the receptacle.-Jewelers' Review.

The Archduke's Experiment.

The friends of Archduke Joseph, of Austria, have had much fun over the results of his attempt to colonize his estates of Doboz and Koebel with gypsies. During the spring and early summer the tribes seemed perfectly happy in their new homes, and the archduke was busy, constructive age. George receives jubilant.
